MIGRATORY BIRD LAW PROVEN

The State Law Must Give Way to Federal Law—Settling Interesting Points

BIRDS NOW PROTECTED

As soon as the treaty providing protection for birds that migrate between Canada and the United States was ratified the question that became uppermost in the minds of those interested in wild life protection was whether this action precluded any further question as to the constitutionality of the federal law for the protection of migratory birds. Treaty and law are practically the same in their provisions in so far as this country is concerned and the federal law now before the United States Supreme Court on an appeal from a decision which pronounced it unconstitutional.

William S. Haskell, counsel of the American Game Protective Association of New York city, has just completed an exhaustive study of the question and has come to the conclusion that there is no doubt that the treaty does preclude any question as to the law's constitutionality.

Mr. Haskell states that the Supreme Court in construing Article VI, Clause 2, of the Constitution, which provides that all such treaties shall be the supreme law of the land, has decided beyond question the states surrendered to the federal government the treaty making power, and thereby making a treaty a law binding within the territorial limits of each state and requiring the judges in every state to recognize its provision.

The treaty, therefore, being constitutional, and it being the duty of the United States to carry its provisions into effect, any law which enforces the treaty must be recognized as valid. The agreements in the treaty are identical with the regulations made under the law so that the treaty is given effect through the law.

Without the law there would be no machinery to carry into effect the treaty agreements and therefore it is highly improbable that the court will declare the law unconstitutional.

It would be helpful for the moral effect on those who have doubted the constitutionality of the law, if the Supreme Court would consider the matter and express its opinion that as the law is required to carry out the treaty agreements, it can no longer be questioned or disregarded, and it is to be hoped that the Department of Justice will be able to obtain an expression from the court.

Fined $10 in Justice Court

Frank Kaulbick, an employee of one of the ice houses at Loon Lake run up against some hard luck last Saturday evening. According to his story he had been to Antioch to spend the evening and on his homeward way he was accosted by a couple of young men in a buggy, who offered him a lift, which he accepted. He furthermore alleges that at his very doored door these same two young men relieved him of his silver watch and four dollars in cash.

As a result of Kaulbick's story Wm. Sterns, his employer swore out a warrant for the arrest of Warren Edwards, who was brought before Justice of the Peace, Isaac Monday. Edwards admitted giving the other a ride, on the night in question but denied the rest of the story. He claims that Kaulbick fell in the ditch immediately after leaving the buggy and that he was not harmed by either himself or his companion. Mr. Isaacs decided however, that Edwards should pay a fine of ten dollars, which he did and the case was settled.

DOINGS AT OUR TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL OF LATE

Work on the walks is progressing nicely, the front walk is almost completed. We hope that we are about through wading the mud to get to school.

Quite a number of the high school pupils attended the Milwaukee and Elk-horn fairs the past two weeks. The fair season is over so we hope for a better attendance for the remainder of the month.

Lenn Spafford has been absent from school the past week on account of sickness.

Several of the boys from the country have been absent on account of filling silos. The early frost made it necessary to get the corn in quickly and hands were scarce so the boys were pressed into service for a few days.

Laboratory work in Physics and General Science will begin this week. The new apparatus has been unpacked and everything is in shape for excellent work.

The girls have waked up and started practice for basket ball. The boys of the freshmen class are practicing and expect to make some work for the championship of the series of class games that have been arranged for.

Arthur Tieger, Adolf Pesat and Robert Wilton have entered school, which brings our enrollment up to seventy-four.

The state superintendent, Mr. Blair, assures us that our school will be transferred from the probationary list to the regular recognized list as soon as the blanks can be filled and returned for his inspection.

EXTEND TIME

FOR OLSON TO

GIVE ANSWER

Time for the answering of Rodney B. Swift's bill filed in the McHenry county circuit court has been extended by agreement of attorneys, and Olson's lawyers will have until Wednesday to file their pleadings.

B. H. Miller of Libertyville is Swift's attorney in the suit, which asks a recount of the votes for the state senatorship. Fraud in the election is averred and statement is made that 1,500 Democrats voted as republicans. He also alleges that liberal use of money and intoxicants brought about Olson's election by the small margin which gave the McHenry county man the victory.

Probability is that the case will be heard by Judge Edwards. A change of venue will certainly be taken from Judge Donnelly's court and with Judge Frost's illness incapacitating him at present, it is believed that the petition will be heard in the local chambers. Data for argument will likely be set Wednesday. The contest is attracting wide interest in view of the charge that Olson was practically elected by democratic votes.

Senator A. J. Olson of Woodstock, is in Dr. Holmes' private hospital, 255 Spring street, Elgin, receiving from an illness which started early in the summer.

Though his health had not been the best for some time, he was able to go about his duties as usual and presided at the meeting of the Woodstock council, last Monday evening. Following the meeting, however, he felt greatly weakened and determined to go to the Elgin hospital at once.

Friends who have visited him report that he is now improved.

HUGHES OR WILSON? ROOSEVELT'S ANSWER

"Against Mr. Wilson's combination of grace in elocution with facility in action; against his record of words unbacked by deeds or betrayed by deeds, we see Mr. Hughes' rugged and uncompromising straightforwardness of character and action in every office he has held. We put the man who thinks and speaks directly, and whose words have always been made good, against the man whose adroit and facile elocution is used to conceal his plans or his want of plans. The next four years may well be years of tremendous national strain. Which of the two men do you, the American people, wish at the helm during these four years; the man who has been actually tried and found wanting, or the man whose whole career in public office is a guarantee of his power and good faith? But one answer is possible; and it must be given by the American people through the election of Charles Evans Hughes as President of the United States."—Roosevelt in Maine Speech.

LAKE CO.'S MILK DEALERS SWING IN LINE

C. H. Patten Company and Lake Zurich Signs Milk Contract

MILK STRIKE AVERTED

Lake county milk dealers, headed by the C. H. Patten company, with its plant at Lake Zurich are swinging into line and the danger of a milk strike similar to the one experienced last spring is growing less daily. Reports have it that all the smaller companies are ready to meet the producers' demand of $2 per hundred pounds of 3.5 test milk.

Early last week just before the big consumers posted their winter schedule of prices it was rumored that another strike which would be more bitter than the one last March was sure to come. The Borden company stated that it would contract for a month at a time only and hoped to get other companies to follow this plan. The farmers still held out with the result that practically all of the small consumers stand ready to meet their price and the Borden factories must either meet it or close their doors.

The real break in the situation came last Tuesday morning when the John F. Jelke Co. and the Victor Mey Co., announced they would pay the association price for the full six months' period. This takes all the milk at Huntley and shuts out the Borden company at this point.

The Oatman company at Dundee has also opened its books and is writing contracts at the producers' price for the six months' period. This takes all the milk at Dundee, Sutton, Algonquin and Gilberts, again eliminating Borden. Two other large buyers are reported to have signed their intentions to open their books at the association price. One of these buyers is said to be willing to write contracts for a full year, notwithstanding Borden's position on buying by the month only.

The association is fast gaining in strength and membership. New locals are being organized daily. Those formed of late are: Monroe, Cortles, Kaneasville, Dales Crossing, Brooklyn, Janesville, Burlington, Caledonia, Franklinville and Monticello, all in Wisconsin.

Leaders assert their confidence that the greatest obstacles have been passed and that they will meet the companies which hold out the longest with the ultimatum: "Pay our price or close your plant."

Death of Walter VanWie

At Silver Lake on Sunday last occurred the death of Walter Van Wie, at his home in that village, age 59 years. He was born in the town of Salem and had practically lived there all his life and had a large circle of friends, who with one sister Mrs. Pease, who lives in Hartford, S. D., will mourn his demise. The funeral was held on Tuesday with burial in the Salem cemetery.

Death of Mrs. Wm. Hancock

On Monday of this week, at the home of her son John, at Superior, Wis., occurred the death of Mrs. Wm. Hancock of this village.

Mrs. Hancock had been ill for many months, bright disease being the cause and her death has been expected at any time during the past few weeks. About two months ago she desired to go to the home of her son, and she was accordingly taken there although her condition was regarded as critical even at that time. After her arrival she gradually grew weaker and although the best of medical attention was given her yet naught could stay the ravages of the disease and on Monday last she quietly passed away.

The remains, accompanied by her son and wife were brought back to her home here on Wednesday, and the funeral was held this afternoon at one o'clock.

DR. P. C. REGAN METS INSTANT DEATH WHEN CAR IS DITCHED

Dr. P. C. Regan of Waukegan met instant death and his three companions on a fishing trip into the lake region of the county had miraculous escapes from death at 8:45 Thursday night when a Ford touring car driven by A. S. Kennedy turtled near the Busse farm in Grant township when one of the front wheels crumpled.

Dr. Regan was killed instantly. The little touring car turned a half somersault, spilling its load of human freight into the ditches which lined the roadway and the dentist struck his head against a telephone pole in his fall. There was a smile on his face, his eyes were open, but heart action had ceased when his panic stricken companions reached him.

The four well-known Waukegan men left that city at 8 o'clock on a fishing trip into the lake region. They fished in Silver Lake during the morning, ate dinner at Antioch, then drove to Fox Lake where they spent the afternoon with rod and bait. They left Ingleside after 8 o'clock and were proceeding eastward at a smart clip, although not one regarded as dangerous or foolish, and were just making the turn in the roadway, about three-quarters of a mile south of the Geo. Busse farm and a quarter east of Ingleside, when the right front wheel crumpled on turn, which is one of the most dangerous in the entire county, and the machine turtled.

Dr. Regan and Ed McDermott were riding in the rear seat; A. S. Kennedy was driving and Dave Adams occupied the seat at his side.

When the machine turtled the auto spilled its load of human freight. Dr. Regan was thrown head foremost out of the car. His head struck the telephone pole which stood within 10 feet of the car, killing him instantly. The other three men landed in the ditch, and if Dr. Regan had moved one foot to the right or to the left, he would have missed the telephone pole and would have escaped death.

LIFT QUARANTINE

NEXT MONDAY

RE-OPEN SCHOOL

After a two weeks forced vacation the school children of Waukegan may re-enter their classes next Monday morning at 9 o'clock when it is said, the plague quarantine will be lifted.

There are but three cases of infantile paralysis in Waukegan at present. The third case developed several days ago, but by closing the public schools and by taboing public meetings and enforcing a strict quarantine at the homes where the plague cases were confined, the health authorities stayed a spread of the disease.

Many local citizens believe the danger of a further spread of the disease is over. In Kenosha, on Saturday two cases of infantile-paralysis developed but the schools there weren't closed and health authorities paid little attention to the cases. They did advise a strict quarantine of the homes wherein the sick were confined but apparently for business reasons they did not order the closing of the schools nor did they discourage public meetings.

Since the local schools were closed business men have suffered no small loss in the amount of business transacted. Theatre managers are almost dependent upon the falling off in patronage. It is said they intended to send a delegation to the health officers asking that the ban be lifted and that children under 16 be given the opportunity of attending all shows after Saturday. If the ban is lifted and the schools re-open Monday all Sabbath school classes will meet as usual next Sunday.

IDEALS OF THE SUCCESS OF THE PLAIN PEOPLE

"If I did not believe that the Republican party was the party of true progress, which was prepared under its leadership to take the country along the way of adaptation to new needs and exigencies of the future, I should have no pride in representing it. But the party of Lincoln is reunited today and we consecrate it to the ideals of the success of the plain people. These are the ideals of the achievements under free institutions, of success in all the activities of the co-operative energy of the plain people."—Charles E. Hughes in a Speech Delivered at Plattsburg, N. Y.

WANT A $3,500,000 AIRCRAFT

Uncle Sam Might Locate Big Plant on Government Site Near Great Lakes

THINK LOCATION EXCELLENT

With Waukegan pictured as the very heart of the nation and with Chicago pulling its every wire to have the United States Armor Plant located on a Waukegan site, it appears that there is every reason to believe that Uncle Sam will locate a three and one-half million dollar aircraft station at Great Lakes.

Near the training station there is an excellent site for the projective plant and if the policy of putting a substantial part of the new land navy establishment inland is carried out there is reason to expect that both the aircraft station and the projective plant may be located near the navy's great inland base near Chicago, the heart of the nation.

The naval appropriation act for the fiscal year ending June 1917, provides $3,500,000, to be expended under the direction of the navy for procuring, producing, constructing, operating, preserving, storing and handling aircraft including rigid dirigibles and apparatuses, maintenance of aircraft stations and experimental work in the development of aviation for naval purposes.

The act also provides $55,000, for an advisory committee for aeronautics. The act provides $125,000 for the purchase, repair and alteration of a ship for the naval militia of Illinois.

The act also provides for a projectile plant. Toward the erection and equipment of a plant for the manufacture of projectiles, on a site to be selected by the President, including the employment of all necessary expert drafting and clerical assistance, to cost when completed not exceeding $1,411,222 to be available until expended.

A substantial number of naval experts believe that a large part of the development of the navy upon land ought to take place inland at points safe from an invasion by sea. The Navy Department has already established the big naval training station Great Lakes, near Waukegan and many believe that there should be established in the middle west a real aviation school or station. Experts think that the naval training station at Great Lakes is a perfect location for the great inland station. Aircraft can be handled both in the waters of Lake Michigan and on land and the great middle west can be called upon to furnish a large number of men who can be trained near home.

In times of war, such an inland station could train in safety a large corps of experts. Aviation is somewhat developed on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts but inland government must interest the people in the most modern method of defense.

Not only that but in time of war it would be an easy matter to ship carloads of equipment from an aircraft station to either coast without any great delay, inasmuch as Chicago is the railroad hub of the states. Centrally located in the middle west, northern Illinois offers Uncle Sam the greatest site for the projectile, for the armor plant and for the aircraft station.

$50,000 Estate left to G. Schreck Heirs

Will of the late Gehard Schreck was admitted to probate Monday by Judge Persons, during a session which was marked for its brevity.

The Libertyville farmer left an estate valued at approximately $50,000 most of which was in farm lands, the Schreck farm being one of the best tracts in that part of the country. In addition to the rural property, however the deceased was possessed of seven houses and lots in the village of Libertyville as well as much stock. Mr. Schreck was a director of the Libertyville National bank, and in fact spent a few hours preceding his sudden demise, at a meeting of the directors of that institution.

Two sons, W. J. and C. A. Schreck were named as administrators of the estate.

110 PERSONS INJURED WHEN ZEPPELINS ATTACK LONDON AT NIGHT.

TWO AIRSHIPS SHOT DOWN

Crew of One Dirigible Killed and Twenty-Two of Crew of the Second Were Captured—Many Buildings Are Destroyed by Bombs.

Sept. 23.—Twelve Zeppelins, which raided London and the south-east counties of England last night, killed 30 persons and injured 110 others, according to a British official statement issued here. Of the casualties 28 men, women and children were killed and 90 men, women and children were injured in the metropolitan area of London.

Two of the Zeppelin airships, both of a new pattern, were shot down in Essex. The crew of one was killed, but the crew of the other, consisting of 22 men, was captured.

Outside of the London district two persons were killed and 11 injured in an East Midland town, and it is feared that two other bodies may be buried in the ruins.

The missiles dropped by the hostile aircraft caused numerous fires and demolished or damaged a large number of residences and stores in London.

The casualties in the metropolitan area, according to an official compilation, are as follows:

Killed, men 17, women 8, children 3. Total, 28.

Injured, men 45, women 37, children 17. Total, 99.

Messages from correspondents at various points between London and the Essex coast describe the delight of watchers when the first raiding airship was brought down in flames about one o'clock in the morning.

People rushed from their houses to points of vantage when the sound of guns were heard and they watched the airship as it proceeded eastward constantly in the glare of concentrated searchlights, with shells bursting around it in such close proximity that watchers were convinced hits must have been scored.

Suddenly there was a flash, then a burst of flame and a storm of cheers as the blazing airship descended slowly, a huge ball of fire still outlived in the rays of the searchlights.

COUNT APPONYI, AUSTRIAN DIPLOMAT, EXPRESSES HIS FAITH IN AMERICAN GOVERNMENT.

STATEMENT IN PARLIAMENT

Regrets Failure of Foreign Minister to Appoint Successor to Discharged Ambassador to Washington—Looks to Services of Great Republic.

London, Sept. 23.—Budapest papers received in London contain the following report of a statement made by Count Albert Apponyi in the Hungarian parliament in the course of a speech on the foreign policy of the government regarding the absence of the Austro-Hungarian ambassador in Washington.

"It is one of the failures of the foreign minister that he did not appoint an ambassador in place of the discharged Austro-Hungarian ambassador at Washington. We are all living in hope that when at last peace comes and when the time arrives for a neutral power to offer her services it will be the great republic across the Atlantic most fit for a work of such magnitude.

"We all hope the United States administration will take the affair in hand sooner or later when they deem it proper to do so, and we find ourselves not even represented diplomatically in a proper manner.

"I know that certain steps or hints were offered on the part of the United States to the effect that the position of ambassador should be filled by the monarchy. In spite of this we have not moved, although the interests of the monarchy demand that we should have a reliable and able representative there."

In Hungarian political circles it is rumored that should Count Apponyi himself be asked to accept the mission as ambassador to Washington he would not refuse to do so.

ALLIES ROUTED, SAYS BERLIN

Field Marshal Von Mackensen's Encircling Movement Shattered Line in Dobrudja.

London, Sept. 23.—By one of the most brilliant coups in the present war, Field Marshal von Mackensen has turned what looked like overwhelming defeat in the Dobrudja district of Roumania into a victory.

Earlier dispatches declared Mackensen's forces were retreating before the onslaughts of the combined Russian and Roumanian forces, which had made a stand along the line from the port of Constantza, on the Black sea, to the Danube.

The text of the Berlin statement issued on Friday, follows:

"In Dobrudja strong Roumanian forces attacked southwest of Toprali (11 miles southwest of Constantza). By an encircling counter-attack by Germano-Hungarian troops against the flank and rear of the enemy the Roumanians are being driven back in disorder.

Bucharest officially stated that the invaders have been driven back more than five miles and "are still in retreat."

SIX-CENT BREAD IN CHICAGO

One Company First to Announce Price Increase Effective Thursday—Other Firms to Follow.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—A new scale of bread prices for Chicago, predicted ever since the conference of the master bakers in this city more than a week ago, was announced on Thursday by one of the city's largest wholesalers, as effective next Thursday, September 28. A new size loaf, resembling the present five-cent loaf, will be put on the market, but will cost six cents.

When the master bakers were in session here they were advised by a lawyer that they must not agree to raise the price of bread or they could be prosecuted under the anti-trust law, but that one firm might raise the price independently and others follow of their own volition. Other companies have intimated their intention to follow.

PASSENGERS AND STRIKERS HURT IN NEW YORK STRIKE.

Several Street Cars Completely Wrecked and a Score or More Are Arrested.

New York, Sept. 22.—Wild rioting by strikers along routes where surface cars were being operated on Wednesday kept the police in constant battles with strikers and their sympathizers. Several cars were completely wrecked. A score or more of rioters were arrested. Others were sent to hospitals or sought refuge in their homes, where broken heads caused by police sticks were mended.

Flying squadrons of policemen in automobiles, detailed to circulate in plain clothes through Fifty-ninth, Forty-second and One Hundred and Twenty-fifth streets, where cars were run, routed many attacking mobs of strikers.

The ferocity of the strikers eclipsed any previous attempts on their part to check traffic. Scores of passengers were more or less injured by flying glass.

Bricks and bottles were hurled through car windows. Wherever possible motorists put on all speed when they espied waiting crowds of strikers and in this way escaped hand-to-hand encounters.

Outlaw and His Band Entered State Capital and Held It for Several Hours.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Washington was amazed on Thursday when it received an account of Villa's raid on Chihuahua City last Saturday from Brigadier General Bell at El Paso.

According to General Bell, the fight was anything but a "glorious victory" for the Carranzistas, as reports from Mexico City and Juarez indicated.

General Bell says Villa captured a large supply of ammunition and made a speech from the balcony of the governor's palace after this and other buildings had been captured.

Washington is wondering what effect, if any, General Bell's report will have on the negotiations of the joint United States-Mexico commission at New London, Conn.

Cape Elizabeth, Me., Sept. 23.—The coastwise steamer Bay State went ashore and is in danger of breaking, about a mile to the westward of Two Lights, near here. The crew from the local coastguard station went to the rescue.

The Bay State carried 250 passengers, all of whom were taken off by the revenue cutter Ossipee and three tugs.

The steamer was abandoned on Sunday by the last of its crew. The steamer began to pound so heavily the men signaled the coastguard, who took off the 14 men in the breeches buoy.

BRITISH DRIVE MILE INTO GERMAN LINES ON SIX-MILE FRONT IN FRANCE.

RANCOURT TAKEN BY FRENCH

Entente Troops Resume Gigantic Offensive After three days and Nights of Incessant Bombardment—Many Prisoners Captured.

London, Sept. 27.—The British troops have captured the villages of Marval and Les Boeufs, together with several lines of trenches on a six mile front between Cambes and Martinpuich, south of the Ancre river, says the official report from British headquarters issued here on Monday. This front was penetrated to a depth of more than a mile.

Many prisoners were taken, and heavy losses were inflicted on the Germans in this renewal of the great drive on the Somme. The French also gained much ground.

Paris, Sept. 27.—The French made another smashing thrust into 15 miles of the German lines on the Somme front and the important base of Combles is practically surrounded.

The town of Rancourt was captured and Frelecourt was entered. They lie east and northeast of Combles respectively. The attack swept the French more than half a mile east of the road from Rancourt to Peronne.

The assault came after three days and nights of incessant bombardment of the German trenches, miles of which were shrouded into shapeless masses of pulverized earth.

VENIZELOS FLEES IN BOAT

Former Greek Premier Picked Up at Sea by Merchant Ship—Will Head Revolt.

Athens, Sept. 27, via London.—M. Venizelos, the former premier, left Athens at five o'clock Monday morning. The merchant ship Ilesperia picked him up from a boat in the open sea.

It is said that M. Venizelos will first visit Crete and then proceed to Saloniki.

(The inference from the above dispatch is that M. Venizelos was forced to flee from Athens secretly in order to carry out his plans for a revolution which would put Greece into the war on the side of the allies. The fact that he was obliged to put to sea in an open boat reveals that the king still controls Athens, though adherents of Venizelos have seized control in most of the country except where the Germans and Bulgarians have military power.)

Thirty thousand armed Cretans now control Crete in behalf of Venizelos. They have turned over all government buildings to the leaders of the separatist movement.

Many of Venizelos' most ardent supporters have been urging him to end the situation at Athens by overthrowing the king.

The complete success of the revolutionists on the island of Crete is said to have inspired him to immediate action.

BUSINESS MEN HEAR WILSON

President in Address to Grain Dealers at Baltimore Says New Trade Era Is Open to U. S.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 27.—President Wilson delivered a speech almost devoid of politics before the National Grain Dealers' convention here on Monday.

Discussing ways in which American commerce can be expanded, he told an audience of 3,800 people that through the new tariff commission, the trade commission, the federal reserve act, the shipping bill and similar measures he expected business men in this country to open up a new era for the nation.

"The purpose of legislation in the immediate future in this country," Mr. Wilson declared, "is going to be to remove all ingenious constructions and make it perfectly clear what the liberties as well as what the restrictions of trade are in this country."

Wife Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Des Moines, Iowa.—"Four years ago I was very sick and my life was nearly spent. The doctors stated that I would never get well without an operation and that without it I would not live one year. My husband objected to any operation and got me some of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and commenced to get better and am now well, am stout and able to do my own housework. I can recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman who is sick and run down as a wonderful strength and health restorer. My husband says I would have been in my grave ere this if it had not been for your Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. BLANCHE JEFFERSON, 703 Lyon St., Des Moines, Iowa.

Before submitting to a surgical operation it is wise to try to build up the female system and cure its derangements with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it has saved many women from surgical operations.

Evidently Good Lady Was Not a Strong Believer in the Principle of Reciprocity.

"Oh, George," said Mrs. Bridge, "on your way downtown this morning will you stop at the grocer's and order two pounds of butter and a half pound of lard and some crackers?"

"Yes, my dear."

"And would you mind leaving my skirt at the tailor's as you go by?"

"Yes, my dear."

"Yes, my dear."

DOGS ARE REAL
HEROES IN WAR

Nobler Instincts of Animal
Brought Out and Made Use Of.

BEST KIND OF SENTINELS

Remarkable and Touching Incidents
Recorded About Canine Con-
tingents of the Franco-British
Continental Armies—A
Dog Academy.

London.—Mr. Theodore Marples, F. Z. S., editor of Our Dogs, writes as follows in the Continental Mail:

When the war is over and its terrible incidents are committed to the historian to chronicle in permanent form, the dog, the traditional "friend of man," must surely come under review, for he has not often formed a part of the operations—held the position of a genuine military unit, and not an important one either—in the warfare.

In this world war real "dogs of war" have been "let loose," as in ancient Roman wars, with this distinction, that the dog's natural propensity has been suppressed; all his nobler instincts have been brought out, so that it has been possible to employ him with safety and success as scout, sentry, messenger, as a draught animal for drawing small field pieces in situations which neither horse nor motor traction could negotiate, and last, but not least, in finding wounded soldiers and carrying succor to them.

Everybody will have read of the terrificed colony of dogs in their dugouts in the north of France, which form a standing army of war dogs, fully equipped with every device of canine military paraphernalia; of Lieut. Rene Haas and his journey to Alaska and return to France with upward of one hundred huskies—a hardy cross between the Eskimo dog and the wolf—and other sledge dogs of the near Arctic regions, for the French army; of the success of Lieutenant Megnin, editor of L'Eclaireur, and his army of war dogs, which he organized and successfully employed on the field of battle at the instance of the French government. He was director of the dogs attached to the Seventh French army.

A Dog Academy.
One could write a whole volume upon the prowess, the exploits, the bravery and the usefulness displayed by the dog in this great war, but I must content myself with recording a few of the more prominent cases which have come under my notice of the intelligence, sagacity, fidelity and devotion to duty which have characterized the dog under altogether novel conditions.

The French have an association of war dogs, the president of which is Mr. Etienne, formerly war minister, and the acting president, Mr. Bellan, formerly president of the municipal council. This association is really a dog academy, in which a curriculum of tuition is laid down to fit the psychological capability of each canine student.

The Prussians attach a term of dogs to every Jaeger (rifle) battalion, which are under the control of practical doggy officers. They are mostly of the sheepdog breed, in register of which, numbering 15,000, is kept for mobilization purposes by the Verchir für Deutsche Schifferhund. Dogs are also employed by other regiments, up to ten with each battalion. They are mostly of the same breed, but Alsatians, Doberman Pinschers and boxers (a sort of bull terrier) are also employed.

Work of Belgian Dogs.
Both Russian and Belgian have their war dogs, which have been largely employed with the greatest success. When the Prussian hosts swept through Belgium the dogs of King Albert and his soldiers performed wonders in the way of sentry work and the quick drawing into position of field pieces of the lighter order for rapid firing.

It is officially stated that the "Red Cross Dog League," which began activities early in the war with eight dogs, now has 2,500 in the field, each with its own trainer. It is asserted that the lives of at least 8,000 wounded men have been saved by these dogs.

As illustrative of what dogs can do in warfare it is recorded that:

"A newly trained dog was brought into a front line trench one night in France and after sniffing the air awhile pointed obstinately at a certain point in the trench and could not be induced to come away. His companions declared that there must be some Prussians near by, but the hubbub occupants of the trench ridiculed the idea; the thing was impossible, they said.

"Suddenly a soldier asked whether it was possible that the dog had struck a listening post. Everyone knew that there was one about somewhere, but no one had ever been able to spot it. The captain was skeptical, but ordered the rockets to be sent up, and there, sure enough, were three Prussians posted in a spot only a dozen yards or so off the trench.

"The dog had nosed out in less than a quarter of an hour a listening post which the entire regiment had spent two months trying to find."

Marquis, a Dog Hero.

Marquis, the famous regimental dispatch dog of the French infantry, was mentioned as having fallen at the battle of Saretour, on the Belgian frontier. His soldier comrades buried him and raised a monument over his grave. He was dispatched with a message at a time when it was not safe to send a human messenger owing to the intensity of the Prussian fire. Marquis received a bullet wound and fell, but rose to his feet and crawled back with the message undelivered, letting it drop out of his mouth, stained with blood, at his master's feet.

It was mainly through the instrumentality of the British war dogs, Pell, Podge, North, Mac and Huff that the French army was able to drive the Prussians out of the Boesinghe woods in one of the Ypres engagements, while Prusse, a bull terrier that served with the French motorcyclist scouts, being carried in the side car, was

RARE "GOD OF DEATH"

A marvelous hunchbacked "god of death" in the form of a pottery water bottle. This treasure was brought to the United States by Captain de Booy, a young Dutch explorer, who has just arrived from a four months expedition in the West Indies. Captain de Booy found the "death god" in a cave where it had stood long before the days of Columbus. The natives were afraid of it, and consequently it was never found. The explorer said "there is only one other in the world, that a female." This one is a male, and is much larger than the other.

most useful in carrying messages back to headquarters.

The dog Dyane, on account of his great sagacity and clever work with the French army, has also won fame, and Lutz, which distinguished himself in one of the Verdun engagements, was mentioned as follows:

"Employed as an advanced sentry during the night of February 21, he gave warning first of the German attack by repeated growls, and compelled attention."

Fells German Attack.

Another story is told of the exploits of a French sentry dog:

"The night was dark; apparently asleep, the dog lay for some time at his master's feet. Suddenly he jumped up and stared through the darkness in the direction of the Prussian lines, and then uttered a low growl. His sentry master needed no further hint but straightway went back and warned his comrades, who lay low.

"In due course the Prussians crept up to the foremost trench, expecting to take the French by surprise, when a shower of shrapnel was poured onto them at pointblank range, and those who were not killed were captured."

The dog Ben of Anzac, which lost two feet from frostbite while on duty in Gallipoli, and was put up at auction by his owner, Trooper Ben Squirell of the Suffolk Yeomanry, realized £101 (about $505) at Ipswich Hill Cross sale.

An instance of a dog's fidelity is that in which a dog in the south of England, whose master had enlisted and gone to France, subsequently followed him, boarding a steamer crossing the channel, and tracing him almost to the firing line.

As showing the inseparable alliance in this war between soldiers and dogs, it may be stated that, besides the acting army of war dogs, nearly every British, French, Belgian, Russian and Italian regiment has its own special canine "musket."

LAW WILL FORBID BARKING

Ordinance Suggested That Would
Quiet Dogs in One Town in California.

Burlingame, Cal.—Burlingame dogs will have to step just over the city's boundary lines when they want to utter a good, healthy bark. The new ordinance is passed by the city trustees.

Following numerous complaints the city fathers ordered the city attorney to frame a law that would insure noiseless nights for Burlingame's light sleepers.

The new law forbids every noise that can be made by man, animal or machine that is loud, prolonged or unnatural, or which may cause physical discomfort to persons of ordinary sensibility.

Women whose kennels are filled with the blue blood of canine aristocracy are expected to lend the protest against the new ordinance.

IRON ROD CARRIES DEATH

White Plains Man Measuring Oil Is
Shocked to Death When Gauge
Touches Wires.

White Plains, N. Y.—Guy Walker, forty years old, was killed by electric shock while measuring oil in a tank car in the freight yards of the New York, Westchester and Boston Railroad company here.

He was using an iron rod and after inserting it in the top of the tank car started to withdraw it, when he touched one of the electric feed wires and about 11,000 volts shot through the rod and his body, killing him almost instantly.

The electricity charged the metal tank of the car and Walker was knocked to the ground after the full voltage had passed through him. He leaves a wife and five children, who reside at Silver Lake.

NO WEAKNESS AT THE END

Clancy's Comment on Old Friend's
Clearness of Intellect Apparent ly a True One.

A local architect is sponsor for the following Irish anecdote:

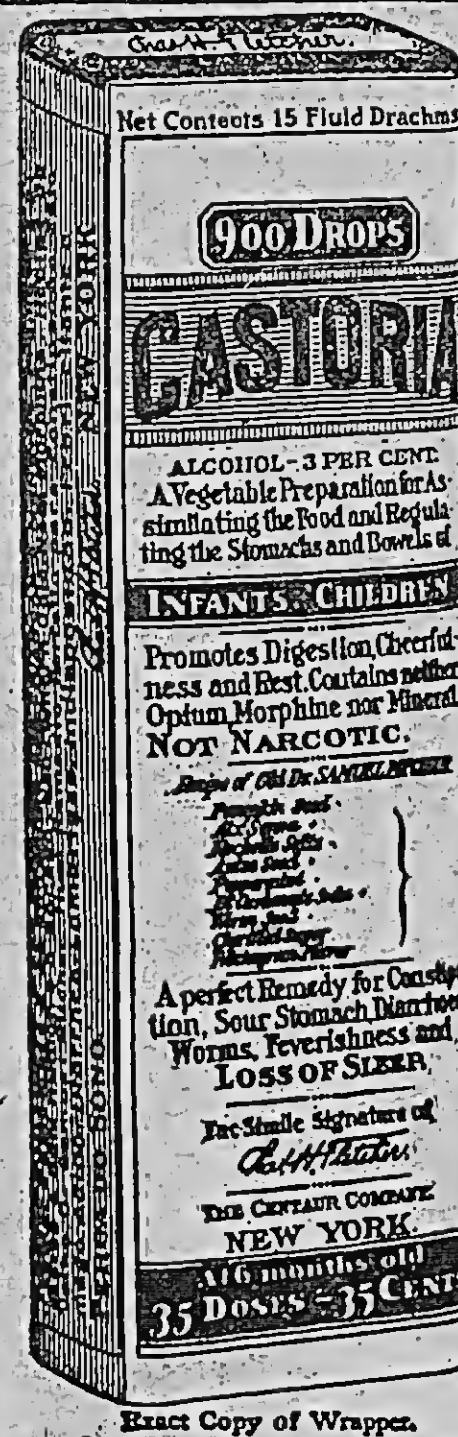

Pat was reported lying at death's door, so Clancy and McManigan determined to call upon him and do what they could to ease his last moments. Arriving at Pat's domicile, they were admitted by the sick man's weeping wife and conducted to the chamber of not-far-off death.

Pat looked very bad indeed, and his friends hardly knew whether they had come in time or not. But the near-dead man rose up as they neared the bed. One grizzled hand pointed floorward at the bedside and in a weak whisper the sick man bade his friends hand him that which he sought. They looked underneath and found a jar, which Pat joyfully clasped to his breast.

"I want," says he, "for you, me friends, to take a last bit of a swig with me."

Aquiescing, Clancy grasped the jug and removed the stopper. He placed his nose to the opening, a smile creasing his rugged countenance. Before drinking, however, he turned to McManigan. "Sure and he's shanable to the very end," said he, nodding sagely. —Columbus Dispatch.

AVOIDING FRICTION AT HOME

Wife of Man Prominent in Public Life Has Some Theories Just About Correct.

The wife of a man just now very prominent in national affairs has been talking to reporters. She believes that marriage is good for men in public life. And she thinks there should be no friction in the home. The lady says:

"That is what I try most to do, to avoid friction. My duty lies in my home. Our home life is a very happy one. I am chiefly interested in that, as I have told you. I try to keep it calm and normal, whatever the situation."

It is not necessary for a woman to have a husband who may be president in order to put into practice the theory thus outlined. If it were possible to discover the facts it would be found that most of the men who amount to anything in any line of effort owe a huge debt to the prudent, skillful, calm and quiet care of their wives in and for their homes.

Man is usually an unreasonable and often a disagreeable animal. He means well, and hopes for the best, but it is easy to offend him, and those he loves best are likely to suffer most. The wife who can understand him and will take the trouble to smooth off the rough edges and go around the weak spots, is the better man of the two. —Knickerbocker Press.

She Had Her Doubts.

"Mother," asked Muttie, "is this house yours or father's?"

"Why, I guess your father owns it, but he and I are in partnership, you know, so I guess it is mine as much as his."

"Why, mother, I did not know you were in partnership with father. When did that happen?"

"Oh," said mother, joyfully, "it began before you were born."

"Well, mother," said the child, "don't let father cheat you."

If a man is too lazy to think for himself he should get married.

A fool isn't aware of the fact that he says many wise things.

Political Jottings.

The Houston Post reasons that it was easier for its own beloved Democracy to endorse the President's Mexican policy than to define it.

While he was about it Senator James Hamilton Lewis also might have explained that the Rome that was "too proud to fight" died a rather disastrous death.

"In all fairness," asks the Boston Transcript, "shouldn't the expense of financing Carranza be borne by the Democratic campaign committee?"

Democrats really haven't any objection to big appropriations for army and navy and internal improvements. They expect the Republicans to rustle the revenue to foot the bills for the next four years.

Hughes says he would like six months to investigate the Administration, but the Administration figures he's doing very well as it is.

Yes, and the same policies that have filled Judge Hughes and others with a deep sense of shame, have sent many other Americans to their graves.

The President has changed his mind about sending more troops to the border, thus running true to form.

When Tom Taggart talks economy to them, it is time the Democrats stopped their extravagance.

The Hughes smile is beginning to attract favorable attention.

President Entertains Five Progressives.—Headline. Others he simply amuses.

Democratic papers chide Hughes because he says he is "100 per cent. a candidate." The Wilson papers naturally prefer a fifty-fifty candidate.

The President says he has no interest in any political party, "except as an instrument of achievement." If that's it, then how did he happen to select such a poor instrument as the Democratic party?

Carranza isn't a candidate for President of the United States, but he did more for American preparedness in three weeks than Woodrow Wilson did in three years.

Another thing you never hear of since the Democrats reduced the cost of living is the "baker's dozen."

Mr. Hughes is criticized for his frequent use of the word "Now." Evidently his immediateness is worrying the watchful waiters who put things off until tomorrow.

Families living in rural districts where mail service has been curtailed will be interested in knowing that Postmaster General Burleson has sent Secretary McAdoo a check for $5,200,000, representing surplus postal revenues.

Mr. Gardner should not quote what Mr. Wilson said while president of Princeton. His utterances are outlawed by himself in seven days.

That man Hughes is causing the Democratic newspapers an endless amount of worry. Apparently they will never be satisfied until he turns the management of his campaign over to them.

Mr. Hughes' speeches are giving poor satisfaction to the Democratic press, which proves they are very good speeches, indeed.

Secretary Baker is developing an agility in changing his mind that must amaze him to his discoverer.

Mr. Wilson's Administration must confess itself incompetent in one respect or the other. It either has appropriated for an unneeded navy or it has neglected a needed navy. It can select its fault to suit itself. In one respect or the other it must be wrong.

"I believe in efficiency in politics just as much as in anything else," says Mr. Hughes. Efficiency is an excellent watch-word, and its use in the campaign is merely a forerunner of its use in the White House when he gets there.

First they said that Hughes was an iceberg, now they are saying that he is a mud-slinger. He cannot possibly be both, and as a matter of fact, is neither. The Democrats must feel in a mighty bad way when they cry out "mud and treason."

Must Be Something Back of It.
"Nothing succeeds like success, except the appearance of success." It pays "to put up a good front," provided there is something solid back of it.

NOT AN EIGHT-HOUR LAW.

Recent Hold-Up Legislation Does Not Shorten Workday a Minute.

As a matter of fact, it is not an eight-hour law at all. It does not curtail the trainmen's workday by a single minute. If an engineer has been receiving $5 for working ten hours a day, this law will raise his pay to $0.25; but it will not shorten his workday even the tenth part of a second. This is no more like the true eight-hour principle than chalk is like cheese.

The reason why people call this an eight-hour law is because it says that in the case of railroad trainmen they shall get their day's pay for the first eight hours' work, and all the rest is to be considered overtime.

Do not tell me that this strike could not have been called off or postponed if President Wilson had shown that he meant business. I do not for one minute believe that those four brotherhood leaders started the blizz going without knowing how to put it out. One of them admitted that he could put it out so far as his own brotherhood was concerned, but that his followers would think that he had gone back on them if he were to do so.—Statement of Congressman A. P. Gardner.

Daily Thought.

It is astonishing how fruitful of improvement a short season becomes when eagerly seized and faithfully used. It has often been observed that those who have most time at their disposal, profit by it the least.—Channing.

Coconut Tree's Blossom.
The blossom of the coconut tree is not unlike a head of cauliflower and is esteemed very much as the "cabbage" of the cabbage palmetto, which grows to some extent in Florida. The coconut blossom is boiled or eaten raw with a salad dressing. From the blossom of the tree the natives also make a pleasant drink, soft when first made, but strongly intoxicating when fermented, and quite often it is allowed to ferment. By one treatment of this flower-liquor it is also made into a native vinegar.

Prussians and Germans.
Many authorities hold that the original Prussians were not of the same breed of the old, or South, Germans, being of the Hunnish or Mongolian stock. The kinship of the English, Dutch, Scandinavian and South German is indisputable, but the Prussians (ethnologically speaking) are not included in the Teutonic circle. They are, to say the least, originally of non-Teutonic blood.

Expert Testimony.

Young Mrs. Cornell was a bride of but a short time. One afternoon she confided to her friends at a pink tea that she was sure her husband never played poker at his club. "How," queried one of the women, "did you find out?" "Oh," explained the young bride, "I met a couple of the members of his club the other day and I asked them: 'Can Perry play poker?' They looked thoughtful for a moment and then answered very sincerely: 'No!'"

Becoming.

Made the Most of Her Time.

Ostap Gubrilowitsch, the pianist, used to tell the story of a pupil who came to Harold Bauer and asked his terms for lessons. After the fourth lesson he said to her: "Why, madame, do you always bring rhapsodies, etudes, swift music? Why not a quiet number, something that shows your phrasing—some Andante?" "Mr. Bauer," replied the pupil, "your lessons are too expensive—I can't afford to play the slow music."

Stroll With the Girls.

"Which had you rather do—take a short walk with a long girl or a long walk with a short girl?" "That would depend on my finances—I'd hate to be short with a short girl or if I was short with a long girl I couldn't go with the long girl long." "But suppose you were flush with dough?" "Oh, then I'd long for a long walk with the long girl and even the short girl could come along."

Feudalism in the Home.

Nowhere more strongly than in the home does feudalism exist in supposedly civilized communities at the present time. There is still the atmosphere of a "superior" and an "inferior," a "master" and a "servant." Until this feeling is eliminated the home must get along as best it may without the aid of those who are competent to do housework, but who decline to assume the position of an "inferior."—Judson Grenell in the Detroit Journal.

Insurance a Luxury.

30 DIE IN AIR RAID PUTS TRUST IN U. S.

110 PERSONS INJURED WHEN ZEPPELINS ATTACK LONDON AT NIGHT.

TWO AIRSHIPS SHOT DOWN

Crew of One Dirigible Killed and Twenty-Two of Crew of the Second Were Captured—Many Buildings Are Destroyed by Bombs.

London, Sept. 26.—Twelve Zeppelins, which raided London and the south-east counties of England last night, killed 30 persons and injured 110 others, according to a British official statement issued here. Of the casualties 28 men, women and children were killed and 90 men, women and children were injured in the metropolitan area of London.

Two of the Zeppelin airships, both of a new pattern, were shot down in Essex. The crew of one was killed, but the crew of the other, consisting of 22 men, was captured.

Outside of the London district, two persons were killed and 11 injured in an East Midland town, and it is feared that two other bodies may be buried in the ruins.

The missiles dropped by the hostile aircraft caused numerous fires and demolished or damaged a large number of residences and stores in London.

The casualties in the metropolitan area, according to an official compilation, are as follows:

Killed, men 17, women 8, children 3. Total, 28.

Injured, men 45, women 37, children 17. Total, 99.

Messages from correspondents at various points between London and the Essex coast describe the delight of watchers when the first raiding airship was brought down in flames about one o'clock in the morning.

People rushed from their houses to points of vantage when the sound of guns was heard and they watched the airship as it proceeded eastward constantly in the glare of concentrated searchlights, with shells bursting around it in such close proximity that watchers were convinced hits must have been scored.

Suddenly there was a flash, then a burst of flame and a storm of cheers as the blazing airship descended slowly, a huge ball of fire still outlined in the rays of the searchlights.

BOMB DROPS NEAR HOOVER

Leader of Belgian Relief Beside Man Wounded on a Seized Dutch Mail Steamer.

London, Sept. 26.—The Dutch mail steamer Prins Hendrik, which was seized by German naval forces while bound from Flushing for London and taken into Zebrugge, was in great danger when the steamer was being escorted toward that port for the second time an enemy allied aeroplane dropped a bomb intended for a convoying German destroyer within twenty feet of the steamer. One Dutch passenger and two sailors were wounded.

This is the story told by passengers of the Prins Hendrik, who have landed here.

Herbert C. Hoover, chairman of the American commission for Belgian relief, was standing beside the wounded passenger and narrowly escaped injury. The hull of the vessel was punctured in 23 places.

Four Illinoisans Lose Lives When Machine Collides With Train in Indiana.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 26.—Two men, one woman and a child were killed and another woman seriously injured on Sunday when their automobile collided with a Vandalia passenger train at Liggett Crossing.

It is believed the brakes of the automobile failed.

COUNT APPONYI, AUSTRIAN DIPLOMAT, EXPRESSES HIS FAITH IN AMERICAN GOVERNMENT.

STATEMENT IN PARLIAMENT

Regrets Failure of Foreign Minister to Appoint Successor to Discharged Ambassador to Washington—Looks to Services of Great Republic.

London, Sept. 25.—Budapest papers received in London contain the following report of a statement made by Count Albert Apponyi in the Hungarian parliament in the course of a speech on the foreign policy of the government regarding the absence of the Austro-Hungarian ambassador in Washington:

"It is one of the failures of the foreign minister (but he did not appoint an ambassador in place of the discharged Austro-Hungarian ambassador at Washington. We are all living in hope that when at last peace comes and when the time arrives for a neutral power to offer her services it will be the great republic across the Atlantic as most fit for a work of such magnitude.

"We all hope the United States administration will take the affair in hand sooner or later when they deem it proper to do so, and we find ourselves not even represented diplomatically in a proper manner.

"I know that certain steps or hints were offered on the part of the United States to the effect that the position of ambassador should be filled by the monarchy. In spite of this we have not moved, although the interests of the monarchy demand that we should have a reliable and able representative there."

In Hungarian political circles it is rumored that should Count Apponyi himself be asked to accept the mission as ambassador to Washington he would not refuse to do so.

ALLIES ROUTED, SAYS BERLIN

Field Marshal Von Mackensen's Encircling Movement Shattered Line in Dobrudja.

London, Sept. 25.—By one of the most brilliant coups in the present war, Field Marshal von Mackensen has turned what looked like overwhelming defeat in the Dobrudja district of Roumania into a victory.

Earlier dispatches declared Mackensen's forces were retreating before the onslaughts of the combined Russian and Roumanian forces, which had made a stand along the line from the port of Constanza, on the Black sea, to the Danube.

The text of the Berlin statement issued on Friday, follows:

"In Dobrudja strong Roumanian forces attacked southwest of Toprali (14 miles southwest of Constanza). By an encircling counter-attack by German-Bulgarian-Turkish troops against the flank and rear of the enemy the Roumanians are being driven back in disorder.

Bucharest officially stated that the invaders have been driven back more than five miles and "are still in retreat."

SIX-CENT BREAD IN CHICAGO

One Company First to Announce Price Increase Effective Thursday—Other Firms to Follow.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—A new scale of bread prices for Chicago, predicted ever since the conference of the master bakers in this city more than a week ago, was announced on Thursday by one of the city's largest wholesalers, as effective next Thursday, September 28. A new size loaf, resembling the present five-cent loaf, will be put on the market, but will cost six cents.

When the master bakers were in session here they were advised by a lawyer that they must not agree to raise the price of bread or they could be prosecuted under the anti-trust law, but that one firm might raise the price independently and others follow of their own volition. Other companies have indicated their intention to follow.

BRITISH FREE 38 TEUTONS

Civilians Seized From U. S. Steamer China in Far East Are Released.

Washington, Sept. 23.—The state department was officially notified on Friday in a dispatch from Consul General Brittain at Sydney, of the release there of the 38 civilians of the Teutonic gowery who were seized illegally while on board the American steamer China in the far East months ago. The release resulted from a strong protest by the state department to Great Britain.

AMONG THE PEAKS

MANY HURT IN RIOTS VILLISTAS IN BIG RAID

PASSENGERS AND STRIKERS HURT IN NEW YORK STRIKE.

Several Street Cars Completely Wrecked and a Score or More Are Arrested.

New York, Sept. 22.—Wild rioting by strikers along routes where surface cars were being operated on Wednesday kept the police in constant battles with strikers and their sympathizers. Several cars were completely wrecked. A score or more of rioters were arrested. Others were sent to hospitals or sought refuge in their homes, where broken heads caused by police sticks were mended.

Flying squadrons of policemen in automobiles, detailed to circulate in plain clothes through Fifty-ninth, Forty-second and One Hundred and Twenty-fifth streets, where cars were run, routed many attacking mobs of strikers.

The ferocity of the strikers eclipsed any previous attempts on their part to check traffic. Scores of passengers were more or less injured by flying glass.

Bricks and bottles were hurled through car windows. Wherever possible motorists put on all speed when they escaped waiting crowds of strikers and in this way escaped hand-to-hand encounters.

FRENCH WIN AT VERDUN

Joffre's Men Take Several Hundred Yards of Positions Near Thiaumont Work.

London, Sept. 23.—The furious German assault on the French lines north of the Somme had its echo on the great battlefield of Verdun on Thursday, where on the two hundred and thirteenth day of the battle, the French renewed the combat with a drive which gained them several hundred yards of German trenches.

There were two French attacks, one directed at Thiaumont and the other at the German positions in the eastern part of Vaux-Chapelle woods.

WASHINGTON HEARS BANDIT CAPTURED CHIHUAHUA CITY.

Outlaw and His Band Entered State Capital and Held It for Several Hours.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Washington was amazed on Thursday when it received an account of Villa's raid on Chihuahua City last Saturday from Brigadier General Bell at El Paso.

According to General Bell, the fight was anything but a "glorious victory" for the Carranzistas, as reports from Mexico City and Juarez indicated. General Bell says Villa captured a large supply of ammunition and made a speech from the balcony of the governor's palace after this and other buildings had been captured.

Washington is wondering what effect, if any, General Bell's report will have on the negotiations of the Joint United States-Mexico commission at New London, Conn.

FRENCH FIGHT AT COMBLES

Joffre's Men Capture Houses in Outskirts of Town—55,800 Germans Taken Captives.

London, Sept. 25.—North of the Somme in the outskirts of Combles the French forces captured strongly defended houses from the Germans and took 100 men prisoner, three of them being officers, according to the French official communication.

"The total number of prisoners taken by the Franco-British troops since July 1, when the Somme offensive began, up to September 18, is more than 55,800, of whom 84,000 were taken by the French troops."

Berlin, via London, Sept. 23.—Reporting military operations in France, the German official statement says: "Western front—Apart from lively artillery and hand grenade engagements on the Somme and in the Meuse region, there is nothing to report."

Ship in Danger of Breaking Up on Maine Rocks—Crew Taken Off Vessel.

Cape Elizabeth, Me., Sept. 26.—The coastwise steamer Bay State went ashore and is in danger of breaking, about a mile to the westward of Two Lights, near here. The crew from the local coastguard station went to the rescue.

The Bay State carried 250 passengers, all of whom were taken off by the revenue cutter Ossipee and three tugs.

The steamer was abandoned on Sunday by the last of its crew. The steamer began to pound so heavily the men signaled the coastguard, who took off the 14 men in the breeches buoy.

Teutons Take British Ship. Berlin, Sept. 25.—The British steamship Colchester, displacing 1,200 tons and owned by the Greater Eastern company, was captured by German warships and brought into Zebrugge. It was announced here.

RANCOURT TAKEN BY FRENCH

Entente Troops Resume Gigantic Offensive After three days and nights of incessant bombardment—Many Prisoners Captured.

London, Sept. 27.—The British troops have captured the villages of Marval and Les Boeufs, together with several lines of trenches on a six mile front between Comblès and Mortulpuich, south of the Aisne river, says the official report from British headquarters issued here on Monday. "This front was penetrated to a depth of more than a mile.

Many prisoners were taken, and heavy losses were inflicted on the Germans in this renewal of the great drive on the Somme. The French also gained much ground.

Paris, Sept. 27.—The French made another smashing lunge into 15 miles of the German lines on the Somme front and the important base of Comblès is practically surrounded.

The town of Rancourt was captured and Fregicourt was entered. They lie east and northeast of Comblès respectively. The attack swept the French more than half a mile east of the road from Rancourt to Peronne.

The assault came after three days and nights of incessant bombardment of the German trenches, miles of which were shredded into shapeless masses of pulverized earth.

VENIZELOS FLEES IN BOAT

Former Greek Premier Picked Up at Sea by Merchant Ship—Will Head Revolt.

Athens, Sept. 27, via London.—M. Venizelos, the former premier, left Athens at five o'clock Monday morning. The merchant ship Hesperia picked him up from a boat in the open sea.

It is said that M. Venizelos will first visit Crete and then proceed to Saloniki.

(The inference from the above dispatch is that M. Venizelos was forced to flee from Athens secretly in order to carry out his plans for a revolution which would put Greece into the war on the side of the allies. The fact that he was obliged to put to sea in an open boat reveals that the king still controls Athens, though adherents of Venizelos have seized control in most of the country except where the Germans and Bulgarians have military power.)

Thirty thousand armed Cretans now control Crete in behalf of Venizelos. They have turned over all government buildings to the leaders of the separatist movement.

Many of Venizelos' most ardent supporters have been urging him to end the situation at Athens by overthrowing the king.

The complete success of the revolutionists on the island of Crete is said to have inspired him to immediate action.

BUSINESS MEN HEAR WILSON

President in Address to Grain Dealers at Baltimore Says New Trade Era Is Open to U. S.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 27.—President Wilson delivered a speech almost devoid of politics before the National Grain Dealers' convention here on Monday.

Discussing ways in which American commerce can be expanded, he told an audience of 3,800 people that through the new tariff commission, the trade commission, the federal reserve act, the shipping bill and similar measures he expected business men in this country to open up a new era for the nation.

"The purpose of legislation in the immediate future in this country," Mr. Wilson declared, "is going to be to remove all ingenious constructions and make it perfectly clear what the liberties as well as what the restrictions of trade are in this country."

Wife Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Des Moines, Iowa.—"Four years ago I was very sick and my life was nearly spent. The doctors stated that I would never get well without an operation and that without it I would not live one year. My husband objected to any operation, and got me some of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and commenced to get better and am now well, am stout and able to do my own housework. I can recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman who is sick and run down as a wonderful strength and health restorer. My husband says I would have been in my grave ere this if it had not been for your Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. BLANCHIE JEFFERSON, 703 Lyon St., Des Moines, Iowa.

Before submitting to a surgical operation it is wise to try to build up the female system and cure its derangements with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it has saved many women from surgical operations.

"And would you mind leaving my skirt at the tailor's as you go by?"

"And then go to the milkman's and tell him to leave an extra quart of cream to-morrow?"

DOGS ARE REAL

Nobler Instincts of Animal

BEST KIND OF SENTINELS

Remarkable and Touching Incidents
Recorded About Canine Con-
tingents of the Franco-British
Continental Armies—A
Dog Academy.

London.—Mr. Theodore Marples, P. Z. S., editor of Our Dogs, writes as follows in the Continental Mail:

When the war is over and its terrible incidence is committed to the historian to chronicle in permanent form, the dog, the traditional "friend of man," must surely come under review, for has he not often formed a part of the operations—held the position of a genuine military unit, and not an unimportant one either—in the warfare?

In this world war real "dogs of war" have been "let loose," as in ancient Roman wars, with this distinction, that the dog's natural propensity has been suppressed; all his nobler instincts have been brought out, so that it has been possible to employ him with safety and success as scout, sentry, messenger, as a draught animal for drawing small field pieces in situations which neither horse nor motor traction could negotiate, and last, but not least, in finding wounded soldiers and carrying succor to them.

Everybody will have read of the terraced colony of dogs in their dugouts in the north of France, which form a standing army of war dogs, fully equipped with every device of canine military paraphernalia; of Lieut. Etienne Hana and his journey to Alaska and return to France with upward of one hundred huskies—a hardy cross between the Eskimo dog and the wolf—and other sledge dogs of the near Arctic regions for the French army; of the success of Lieutenant Meguin, editor of L'Eleveur, and his army of war dogs, which he organized and successfully employed on the field of battle at the instance of the French government. He was director of the dogs attached to the Seventh French army.

A Dog Academy.

One could write a whole volume upon the prowess, the exploits, the bravery and the usefulness displayed by the dog in this great war, but I must content myself with recording a few of the more prominent cases which have come under my notice of the intelligence, sagacity, fidelity and devotion to duty which have characterized the dog under altogether novel conditions.

The French have an association of war dogs, the president of which is Mr. Etienne, formerly war minister, and the acting president, Mr. Bellan, formerly president of the municipal council. This association is really a dog academy, in which a curriculum of tuition is laid down to fit the psychological capability of each canine student.

The Prussians attach a team of dogs to every Jäger (rifle) battalion, which are under the control of practical doggy officers. They are mostly of the sheepdog breed, a register of which, numbering 15,000, is kept for mobilization purposes by the Verein für Deutsche Schäferhund. Dogs are also employed by other regiments, up to ten with each battalion. They are mostly of the same breed, but Alredule terriers, Doberman Pinschers and boxers (a sort of bull terrier) are also employed.

Work of Belgian Dogs.

Both Russia and Belgium have their war dogs, which have been largely employed with the greatest success. When the Prussian hosts swept through Belgium the dogs of King Albert and his soldiers performed wonders in the way of sentry work and the quick drawing into position of field pieces of the lighter order for rapid firing.

It is officially stated that the "Red Cross Dog League," which began activities early in the war with eight dogs, now has 2,600 in the field, each with its own trainer. It is asserted that the lives of at least 8,000 wounded men have been saved by these dogs.

As illustrative of what dogs can do in warfare it is recorded that:

"A newly trained dog was brought into a front line trench one night in France and after sniffing the air while pointed obstinately at a certain point in the trench and could not be induced to come away. His companions declared that there must be some Prussians near by, but the habitually occupants of the trench ridiculed the idea; the thing was impossible, they said.

"Suddenly a soldier asked whether it was possible that the dog had struck a listening post. Everyone knew that there was one about somewhere, but no one had ever been able to spot it. The captain was skeptical, but ordered fire rockets to be sent up, and there, sure enough, were three Prussians posted in a spot only a dozen yards or so off the trench.

"The dog had nosed out in less than a quarter of an hour a listening post which the entire regiment had spent two months trying to find."

Marquis, a Dog Hero.

Marquis, the famous regimental dispatch dog of the French infantry, was mentioned as having fallen at the battle of Sarcour, on the Belgian frontier. His soldier comrades buried him and raised a monument over his grave. He was dispatched with a message at a time when it was not safe to send a human messenger owing to the intensity of the Prussian fire. Marquis received a bullet wound and fell, but rose to his feet and crawled back with the message undelivered, letting it drop out of his mouth, stained with blood, at his master's feet.

It was mainly through the instrumentality of the British war dogs, Pett, Podge, North, Bue and Bluff that the French army was able to drive the Prussians out of the Moeslinghe woods in one of the Ypres engagements, while Prusko, a bull terrier that served with the French motorcyclist scouts, being carried in the side car, was

A marvelous hunchbacked "god of death" in the form of a pottery water bottle. This treasure was brought to the United States by Captain de Booy, a young Dutch explorer, who has just arrived from a four months expedition in the West Indies. Captain de Booy found the "death god" in a cave where it had stood long before the days of Columbus. The natives were afraid of caves, and consequently it was never found. The explorer said "there is only one other in the world, that a female." This one is a male, and is much larger than the other.

most useful in carrying messages back to headquarters.

The dog Dyrane, on account of his great sagacity and clever work with the French army, has also won fame, and Lutz, which distinguished himself in one of the Verdun engagements, was mentioned as follows:

"Employed as an advanced sentry during the night of February 21, he gave warning first of the German attack by repeated growls, and compelled attention."

Falls German Attack.

Another story is told of the exploits of a French sentry dog:

"The night was dark; apparently asleep the dog lay for some time at his master's feet. Suddenly he jumped up and stared through the darkness in the direction of the Prussian lines, and then uttered a low growl. His sentry master needed no further hint but straightway went back and warned his comrades, who lay low.

"In due course the Prussians crept up to the foremost trench, expecting to take the French by surprise, when a shower of shrapnel was poured onto them at pointblank range, and those who were not killed were captured."

The dog Ben of Anzac, which lost two feet from frostbite while on duty in Gallipoli, and was put up at auction by his owner, Trooper Ben Squirell of the Suffolk Yeomanry, realized £101 (about $505) at Ipswich Road Cross sale.

An instance of a dog's fidelity is that in which a dog in the south of England, whose master had enlisted and gone to France, subsequently followed him, boarding a steamer crossing the channel, and trailing him almost to the firing line.

As showing the inseparable alliance in this war between soldiers and dogs, it may be stated that, besides the actual army of war dogs, nearly every British, French, Belgian, Russian and Italian regiment has its own special canine "insect."

LAW WILL FORBID BARKING

Ordinance Suggested That Would
Quiet Dogs in One Town in California.

Burlingame, Cal.—Burlingame dogs will have to stop just over the city's boundary lines when they want to utter a good, healthy bark if the new ordinance is passed by the city trustees.

Following numerous complaints the city fathers ordered the city attorney to frame a law that would insure noiseless nights for Burlingame's light sleepers.

The new law forbids every noise that can be made by man, animal or machine that is loud, prolonged or unnatural, or which may cause physical discomfort to persons of ordinary sensibility.

Women whose kennels are filled with the blue blood of canine aristocracy are expected to lead the protest against the new ordinance.

IRON ROD CARRIES DEATH

White Plains Man Measuring Oil Is
Shocked to Death When Gauge
Touches Wires.

White Plains, N. Y.—Guy Walker, forty years old, was killed by electric shock while measuring oil in a tank car in the freight yards of the New York, Westchester and Boston Railroad company here.

He was using an iron rod and after inserting it in the top of the tank car started to withdraw it, when he touched one of the electric feed wires and about 11,000 volts shot through the rod and his body, killing him almost instantly.

The electricity charged the metal tank of the car and Walker was knocked to the ground after the full voltage had passed through him. He leaves a wife and five children, who reside at Silver Lake.

Los Angeles.—Hooking a large thrasher shark while on a three-days fishing cruise off Catalina Island, Capt. Ted Gray and two companions in the launch Swatka III, battled with the monster, which was killed by a sword fish, for more than an hour.

NO WEAKNESS AT THE END

Clancy's Comment on Old Friend's Clearness of Intellect Apparently a True One.

A local architect is sponsor for the following Irish anecdote:
Pat was reported lying at death's door, so Clancy and McManigan determined to call upon him and do what they could to ease his last moments. Arriving at Pat's domicile, they were admitted by the sick man's weeping wife and conducted to the chamber of not-far-off death.

Pat looked very bad indeed, and his friends hardly knew whether they had come in time or not. But the near-dead man rose up as they neared the bed. One grizzled hand pointed forward at the bedside and in a weak whisper the sick man bade his friends hand him that which he sought. They looked underneath and found a jug, which Pat joyfully clasped to his breast.

"I want," says he, "for you, me friends, to take a last bit of a swig with me."

Acquiescing, Clancy grasped the jug and removed the stopper. He placed his nose to the opening, a smile creasing his rugged countenance. Before drinking, however, he turned to McManigan. "Sure and he's snishin to the very end," said he, nodding sagely.—Columbus Dispatch.

AVOIDING FRICTION AT HOME

Wife of Man Prominent in Public Life Has Some Theories Just About Correct.

The wife of a man just now very prominent in national affairs has been talking to reporters. She believes that marriage is good for men in public life. And she thinks there should be no friction in the home. The lady says:

"That is what I try most to do, to avoid friction. My duty lies in my home. Our home life is a very happy one. I am chiefly interested in that, as I have told you. I try to keep it calm and normal, whatever the situation."

It is not necessary for a woman to have a husband who may be president in order to put into practice the theory thus outlined. If it were possible to discover the facts it would be found that most of the men who amount to anything in any line of effort owe a huge debt to the prudent, skillful, calm and quiet care of their wives in and for their homes.

Man is usually an unreasonable and often a disagreeable animal. He means well, and hopes for the best, but it is easy to offend him, and those he loves best are likely to suffer most. The wife who can understand him and will take the trouble to smooth off the rough edges and go around the weak spots, is the better man of the two.—Knickerbocker Press.

She Had Her Doubts.

"Mother," asked Mattie, "is this house yours or father's?"

"Why, I guess your father owns it, but he and I are in partnership, you know, so I guess it is mine as much as his."

"Why, mother, I did not know you were in partnership with father. When did that happen?"

"Oh," said mother, jokingly, "it began before you were born."

"Well, mother," said the child, "don't let father cheat you."

If a man is too lazy to think for himself he should get married.

Great Poets.

There have, of course, been many fine poets, writers of beautiful sentiments in beautiful numbers; but the supremely great poets may be counted on the fingers of the two hands. England and Scotland lead the world in great poets, having, perhaps, a half dozen, while the other countries can show hardly more than one each, and some of them not even one.

"Where is the best place for quail?" Nimrod asks us, and in the absence of the sporting editor we venture to reply, "On toast."—Drowning's Magazine.

The Golden Fleece.

The Order of the Golden Fleece is a bit of royal foolishness instituted by Philip the Good of Burgundy, about 1429, on account, it is said, of the profit that had come to him by wool-raising. The order is still in existence, its membership being confined to the rulers and crown princes of Europe, with now and then an Asiatic potentate.

Not a Picnic.

"I have lived in the city all my life and I would like to know whether farm life is rigorous. Is it?" asks a Public Mind girl. If you'll drop out some place west of Wichita some day this month and watch mother and the girls cooking for a regiment of harvest workers you'll find that farm life in the summer is not exactly a tea party. —Kansas City Star.

Illinois Press Comment

Springfield News-Record: The present system overburdens land and other visible property. It permits intangible property to escape.

Edwardsville Intelligencer: Popular willingness to give state legislatures the necessary authority to meet modern and advancing economic conditions, especially in states like New York and Maryland, where the vote was taken on a basis of actual experience, may be reflected in Illinois when the amendment is voted upon.

Illinois State Journal: In all these years no one has raised his voice in defense of the existing scheme.

Chicago Herald: If adopted by the people, as it will be, it (the amendment) will empower the general assembly to enact laws that will take note of the fact that income-producing power as well as market value, must be considered in any fair taxation system.

Troy Call: The pending amendment will not of itself make any change in existing laws.

Watseka Republican: Other states have dealt with the tax problem with considerable success.

Milan Independent: Years of effort have been spent by honesty-loving legislators in getting such an amendment through as we now have to vote upon.

The Farmers' Review: Under the present system, which has been in vogue in Illinois since 1848, greater burdens are constantly heaped upon real property.

Aurora Beacon: Must Illinois with all her vast taxable property hobble along on crutches when the vote of the people can make her stand up straight?

Streator Free Press: The action of the legislature with reference to the taxing of Illinois is eminently timely.

Galesburg Mail: There is nothing to lead us to believe that the people's verdict will not favor new tax laws.

Elgin News: If all the property in Elgin were actually taxed, the revenue derived therefrom at the present rate would be more than ample. But it never has been and never will be under the present law.

Kewanee Courier: Injustice and inequity should give way to fairness in our Illinois system of taxing and this action of the legislature (submission of the amendment) is a step in the right direction.

Bellefonte News-Democrat: Other states, similar in character to Illinois, by modern and scientific methods, have made tax-dodging a rare offense. Instead of a common habit, and the devised means for taxing effectively and justly those classes of property which largely escape in Illinois.

Dixon Telegraph: In eastern states where the power of centralized wealth in great cities is greater than in Illinois, we see no tendency to exempt this vast (intangible) wealth, but rather the effective taxation of it on a basis, having some regard for the income and character of the property taxed.

Monmouth Review: Let anyone invest his or her savings in bonds, stocks or mortgages, or let anyone put a sum in a savings bank, and Illinois demands annually half or two-thirds of the income from such securities or deposits.

AFFLUENT STATE:
BAD TAX SYSTEMPENDING AMENDMENT WILL MAKE POSSIBLE NEW AND FIT TAX SYSTEM.

The states rank as to population: New York, first; Pennsylvania, second; Illinois, third. The great cities of the world, in the order of population are: London, New York, Paris (before the war), Chicago. It is not unlikely that Chicago is now the third city in population. Chicago by far is the second city in the United States—values considered—in manufacturing, and in point of importance of industrial products, it is generally conceded to be the first. It is the greatest transportation center of the world, and next to New York, the greatest financial center of the United States. It is a part of Illinois and Illinois is part and parcel of Chicago.

In recent years Illinois has produced cereal crops 20 per cent greater in value than the next highest state. It is second in the production of bituminous coal and fifth as to petroleum and natural gas, third in the value of industrial products and fourth in the number of wage workers—probably first in the number of adult male workers. Measured by the best economic tests Illinois is the most important state in the Union. No state could be dispensed with less easily.

The Illinoisans who sit in the background politically, producing these economic results, has sometimes found fault that closer attention is not given to state policies and better results secured. The pending amendment to the state constitution is a response to his requirements so far as taxation matters go. It will enable the legislature to enact laws that will give business enterprises of all sorts more encouragement, assuring them that they will not be driven from the state by the enforcement of tax policies which have been discarded by other states—especially states which rival and compete with Illinois for first place in material welfare. The amendment will make possible as low rates for farm, industrial and commercial loans as are possible anywhere. And this will give added impetus to the development of the state. The amendment will be voted on November 7, and must have a majority of all the votes cast at the election to insure its adoption.
